

An isometric drawing of a mechanical component. It features a large circular hole on the left side and a rectangular slot on the right side. The part has a complex, multi-faceted geometry.